"Those Naughty Girls."

The Lexington Democrat prints the following funny story about the K. U.
boys who will take part in the presentation of "Old King Cole" at the Paris
Opera House Friday night:

Oh! I wouldn't be a girl, would you?
Poor things; they are always causing trouble, one way or the other, and the men will be more convinced than ever now than even just tending like you are a girl is trouble; yes—and fun too—enough for them.

But to get to the story. Don't you know the "Old King Cole" Company went yesterday morning to Mullen's photograph gallery to have their pictures taken and created the sensation of the day. Several of the principals who take parts of pretty princesses—
Mr. Foxhall Daingerfield, Mr. W. R. D.
Winters and the lovely chorus girls,
Mr. Harry Swan, Mr. George Roche,
Mr. Thomas Scott, Mr. George Mon-gomery, Mr. T. D. Look and Mr. Jesse Simpson in their dainty décolleté gowns, sat near the window awaiting their turn to pose. To while away the time they smoked cigarettes—as boys will, you know, and, oh, my! the consternation that they caused! All the naughty men were ogling them and throwing kisses surreptitiously and the good women were—well, shocked doesn't half express it. One of them more interested in the city's morals than the rest hid her to the Mayor's office to have an injunction out against such awful behavior, but they do say that His Honor said he was very sure
"the pretty things couldn't mean no harm," and he'd rather not interfere with the picture gallery. The boys enjoyed the joke, you may be sure, to the fullest, and flirted very boldly with all the college boys across the street, with business men and any others that came their way. They are a pretty lot, these princesses and chorus girls.

Gave a Cold Check.

Henry W. Jansen, alias Henry Baker, of this city was arrested Friday afternoon in Lexington, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Jansen went to the saloon of G. W. Adams and introduced himself as a horseman, giving his name as Henry Baker. After taking several drinks he asked for a blank check on the First National Bank. Mr.
Adams did not have one on the First National, but gave him one on the City National. This was changed and Jansen, alias Baker, filled it in for $5 and signed Henry Baker. Mr. Adams cashed it.

Saturday the check was returned to Mr. Adams marked "no funds;" the man had never had any account at the bank. The police were notified and Jansen was captured. He was given a hearing before Squire Payne later and in default of $300 surety he was sent to jail. He claims he was drunk and did not know what he was doing when he wrote the check.

Jansen is a gardner and has been in police court here several times, once for mistreating his family.

EDUCATIONAL AFFAIRS

Of Kentucky To Be Well Displayed at the Fair.

PROFESSOR BROWNELL IN CHARGE.

Committee of Prominent Educators Arranging For Collection and Installation of Exhibits—Much Interest Being Taken In School Teachers' Contest.

The display Kentucky is to make in the Educational building at the World's Fair next year will open the eyes of educators everywhere to Kentucky's possibilities in educational affairs. The Kentucky Exhibit association has placed at the head of its Educational exhibit committee Professor H. G. Brownell, principal of the Manual Training High School of Louisville, and he has appointed 20 of the state's best known educators as his associates on the committee. They are as follows: Professor H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Professor R. P. Halleck, Louisville; Professor W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville; Professor F. Paul Anderson, Lexington; Dr. Chase Palmer, Danville; President William Dinwiddie, Jackson; Dr. W. G. Frost, Berea; Dr. B. B. Hinton, Louisville; Dr. E. Y. Mullins, Louisville; Dr. Arthur Yager, Georgetown; Superintendent M. A. Cassidy, Lexington; Superintendent S. L. Frogge, Frankfort; Professor C. J. Crabbe, Ashland; Professor McHenry Rhodes, Owensboro; Professor T. S. Alley, Bellevue; Professor C. C. Cherry, Bowling Green; Professor Enos Spencer, Louisville; Miss Pattie S. Hill, Louisville; Mrs. Emily E. Bracken, Louisville, and Mrs. M. B. Tucker, Louisville.

The association has made application for 2,500 square feet of space in the Palace of Education at the Fair and it is reasonably certain that it will secure this amount. Professor Brownell recently made a trip to St. Louis to confer with Mr. Howard J. Rogers, chief of the Department of Education, relative to Kentucky's exhibit in his department, and had a very satisfactory interview. Mr. Rogers promising Professor Brownell that Kentucky's educational exhibit would be well taken care of. Professor Brownell since his appointment has devoted much time to the study of collecting and installing the Kentucky educational display and has decided to classify it under eight groups, as follows: Elementary, secondary, higher, fine arts, agricultural, commerce and industry, defects and text-books and furniture. There will be several classes in these groups, showing school management, organization, statistics, pictures and plans of buildings, methods of instruction, results obtained and pupils' and students' work. Another important factor will be the training of teachers. Good exhibits are desired by Professor Brownell and his committee from the graded schools and rural schools of the state, and also illustrating the work of the mountain schools. It is his hope that every educator in the state will help make the Kentucky display one of the most successful in the Educational building at the fair.

H. G. BROWNELL,
Chairman Educational Exhibit Committee, Louisville.

It is believed that the deep interest to be aroused by the school teachers' popularity contest, inaugurated two weeks ago by the Kentucky Exhibit association, will greatly increase interest in the educational exhibit. Educators in every part of the state are awake to the importance of having a good display at St. Louis, and at the same time are lending their efforts to making a success of the contest whereby 120 of the most popular teachers of the state will be given free trips to the World's fair. Every educator in Kentucky is eligible to election in this contest, members of the educational committee alone excepted. They are barred for the reason that the counting of the votes is to be conducted under their supervision.

FINE AGRICULTURAL DISPLAYS.

No man is more capable for the position of chairman of an agricultural exhibit committee than is Colonel Ion B. Hall, the state commissioner of agriculture. Colonel Hall is at the head of the Kentucky Exhibit Association's committee on agriculture and horticulture exhibits and is now working out the details of the display to be made by the state in these two departments. He has associated with him a committee thoroughly versed in everything agricultural, and in addition to this has an army of workers throughout the state, having appointed subcommittees in every county of the state.

"MINED IN KENTUCKY."

This Placard Will Become Familiar at World's Fair.

GRAND DISPLAY OF OUR RESOURCES.

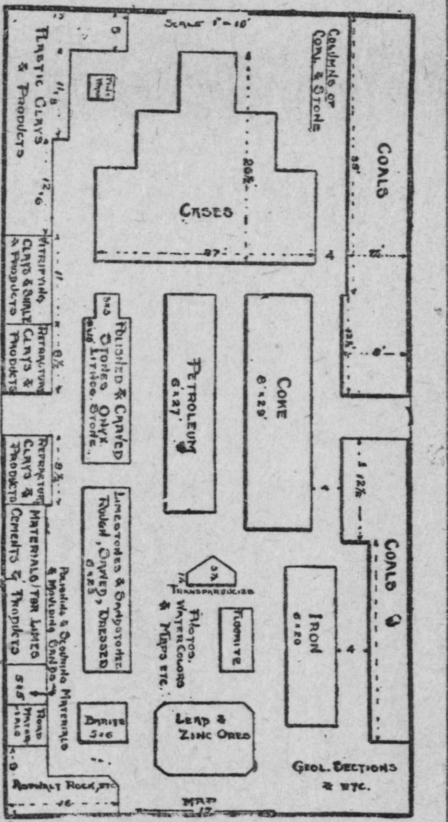

Six Thousand Square Feet of Space Secured For Kentucky's Mineral Exhibit In the Mines and Metallurgy Building at the Exposition.

The floor plan of Kentucky's mineral exhibit, to be installed in the Mines and Metallurgy building at the exposition in St. Louis next year, is made public this week by the Kentucky Exhibit association. It was drawn by Professor C. J. Norwood, state inspector of mines, who is chief counselor to the mineral exhibit committee of the association, and has been approved by the chairman of the committee, former Mayor Chas. P. Weaver of Louisville. It has been conceded by everyone with the slightest knowledge of Kentucky's mineral resources that the Blue Grass state is wealthier in this regard probably than any other commonwealth in the Union. This is a fact that is to be brought prominently to the attention of thousands and thousands of visitors at the exposition. A study of the floor plan will show that every variety of mineral is to be given a good display. Chairman Weaver has surrounded himself with expert committeemen on these minerals and Kentuckians may rest assured that the best exhibit ever made of her wealth beneath the surface will be found at the St. Louis fair. The floor plan shows only 5,000 feet of space. In addition to this the association has secured 1,000 square feet to be used in other parts of the Mines and Metallurgy building, and herein will be installed duplicate exhibits of coal, crude oil, clays, asphalt, etc.

C. J. NORWOOD,
Chief Counselor to Mineral Exhibit Committee, Lexington.

ONE EXHIBIT TO COST $10,000.

Kentucky will have the distinction of installing one of the largest refrigerating machines to be shown at the World's fair. Mr. Gardner T. Voorhees, the refrigerating engineer and expert in charge of the refrigerating department at the exposition, was in Louisville a short time ago and invited the Henry Vogt Machine company to put in a 200-ton refrigerating machine at the fair. The invitation was accepted and a contract signed to that effect. A machine of 200 tons refrigerating capacity is about equivalent to a machine that will make 100 tons of ice each 24 hours. The Henry Vogt Machine company will expend $10,000 in making this exhibit.

DEEP INTEREST MANIFESTED.

The failure of the Kentucky legislature to make an appropriation at its last session left to the citizens of the state one chance to be properly represented at the St. Louis world's fair next year. This opportunity is being taken advantage of. The Kentucky Exhibit association was formed to correct, in as great a measure as possible, the mistake made by the general assembly, and, with the united effort of the citizens of the commonwealth, it will succeed. There is no denying the fact that the movement inaugurated by the association has already stirred up more interest throughout the state than would have come from an appropriation in many times the period devoted to the work by this organization.

Low rates to Louisville via the L. & N., March 11 and 13, account grand spectacular performance of Ben Hur, at Macanley's Theatre, the greatest play on the modern stage. The rate for the round-trip from Paris will be but $2.65. Tickets sold at above rates will be good going only on the morning trains and are limited for return day following date of sale. Tickets for the performance will cost $2.00 per seat on all lower floor and $1.50 and $1.00 per seat in balcony. Seats can be secured through local Agents upon deposit with him of above amount, and patrons at local points will be given preference on purchase of seats in advance. Seats should be ordered as soon as possible.

Low Colonist Rates to the North-west and California.

From February 15th until April 30th, the Burlington makes greatly reduced one-way rates for settlers going to California, Montana, Big Horn Basin, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Puget Sound Country and British Columbia. Generally speaking, the reduction is from 25 to 40 per cent.

The Way To Go.

Take Burlington trains at St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Omaha, Denver or Chicago. With its close connections, the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads, and with its through train service the Burlington offers more to the settler than any other line or combination of lines into the Northwest.

The "Burlington-Northern Pacific Express" is the great daily train with through chairs, cars, coaches and through tourist sleepers. This is the only through train in the Northwest jointly with the Northern Pacific Road.

To California.

Join the Burlington personally conducted California excursions in through tourist sleepers which are run on frequent dates each week via Denver, Scenic Colorado and Salt Lake City.

Main Traveled Road.

One makes no mistake in calling for tickets over the Burlington with its 5,000 miles of main traveled trunk lines leading to practically all the great cities and diverging points of the West.

AMUSEMENTS.

The anxiety of the ladies to see the dainty little comedienne, May Sargent and her regal robes, is quite excusable. The most elaborate of all is the one worn in the third act. This without doubt is a gorgeous affair—a mass of dazzling solid silver. It is of Louisine style, and estimated to contain 24,000 silver spangles, each one mounted with cut steel heads. Miss Sargent has portrayed her present role in "Other People's Money" over 1,000 times.

NEW ADVERTISEMENT.—Attention is called to the advertisement in another column of Clarke & Co.

Only Ten Left.

The Rural Free Delivery Directory offered for sale by THE NEWS on Friday were all sold but ten. The merchants who bought them complimented them very highly and were glad to get them. Those who did not get one can do so by calling at THE NEWS office. Price 50 cents.

A HANDSOME PRESENT.—The Sterling silver tea service and tray presented to Mr. A. C. Guizet, of Lexington, Ky., by the Episcopal church of that city. Saturday night was furnished by A. J. Winters & Co., of this city and was of the old Colonial style. This reflects great credit on this firm as a number of others competed for the sale.

LIVE STOCK, CROP, ETC.

—W. H. Whaley, Jr., has bought over 250 hogs at 6 1/4 to 6 1/2 cents.

—R. A. Harris sold at Richmond to Newland Jones 23 shoats, averaging 125 pounds, at 7c.

—At Richmond court, the 1,000 cattle on the market ranged in prices from 3 1/2 to 5 1/4 cents.

—Mr. Thos. Prather, of Millersburg, sold John Spohn, of Cynthiana, 21 1,000-pound heifers at 5c.

—At a recent sale in Indiana, a bore hog was sold for $8,000, which is $2,000 above any previous price brought by any breed.

—Col. R. C. Estill has been chosen President of the Kentucky Horse Breeders' Association, made vacant by the death of Col. R. C. Stoll.

—Rock & Rallsback, of Clark county, shipped to Cincinnati, Friday, about one hundred 200-lb. hogs that cost 6 1/2 cents.

—Kentucky Advocate.

—In Clark, R. D. Hunter and son sold to W. M. Robb 160 lambs, to be delivered June 20, at 6 cents. H. G. Bush sold to same 60 lambs to be delivered June 16, at 6 cents.

—M. R. Bradley broke the record raising tobacco in Robertson county last year. On 12 acres he had 18,000 pounds at an average of 1,500 pounds per acre, which he sold at 8 cents.

—Ben Hopkins and Elmer Boardman crops of wool last week of J. E. Gray, Martin Doyle, A. C. Ashcraft, J. D. Booth, John G. Redmon, C. J. Daniel, Wm. Fisher, etc., all at 20 cents.

—The Continental Tobacco Company has arranged to grow a lot of white burley tobacco under canvas in several counties in Kentucky this season to test the question as to the superiority of such tobacco over that grown in the open air. Two acres of this tobacco will be raised on Hon. James E. Cahill's farm near Lewisburg.

When It Costs Too Much.

Newspaper advertising costs you too much when you try it to-day and stop it to-morrow. So would clerks cost you too much if you bired them for a day now and then. Same with delivery wagons. The wheels of your business must never stop; and the whole machinery is out of gear unless the big advertising wheel is always turning.

SEED OATS.—For Northern seed oat go to Geo. W. Stuart, directly opposite the freight depot. (tf)

WILL PLEASE SOME ONE.—Every person who owns a home in town or country should plant a tree or flower where none grew before, and in time they will give pleasure to somebody.

A THREATENING EVIL.

The Seats of Too Many Senators Are Obtained by Corrupt Practices.

It is the popular habit to attack the senate of the United States with general condemnation. This is misleading, says a writer in Century. An honest man, who knows the senate intimately in all its workings, the other day said of it that any such sweeping attack had the inexactness of caricature, the fact being that the senate contains a group of well-equipped and disinterested public men who have become "experts" in governmental questions, and who get through in the course of the year "an immense amount of useful public business."

There is much truth in this. But the other thing is true also, that state after state, and some of our oldest states, are represented by men whom it is a loss of reputation to associate with intimately; who got their seats by "corrupt practices" of one kind or another; and whose presence in the senate is an advertisement of the low tone of the state "machines" and legislatures, through whose corrupt management, or virtual purchase, they obtained their "honorable" seats. And a low-toned senator or representative means, as a rule, a low class of federal appointments in the states or districts thus represented; for it is a part of the miserable situation that every means is taken to deceive the appointing powers as to the real character of those recommended by corruptionists to office.

Unexpected frankness now and then gives a special zest to the humor of a situation in congress. When "Gabe" Bouck was the representative from the Oshkosh district of Wisconsin, a pension bill came before the house, to his great vexation of spirit; for, while his personal convictions were directly opposed to it, his political interests were strong enough to whip him into line. On the day the bill came up for final disposal a fellow member met Bouck in the space behind the last row of seats, walking back and forth and gesticulating excitedly, bringing his clenched right fist down into the hollow of his left hand, to the accompaniment of expletives which would hardly look well in print, writes Francis E. Leupp in "Some Humors of Congress."

"What's the trouble, Gabe?" inquired his friend. "Why all this excitement?" "Trouble?" snorted the irate lawmaker. "Trouble enough! That pension bill is up, and all the cowardly nincompoops in the house are going to vote for it. It's sure to pass—sure to pass."

"But why don't you get the floor and speak against it—try to stop it?" suggested the other.

"Try to stop it?" echoed Bouck. "Try to stop it? Why, I'm one of the cowardly nincompoops myself!"

DOMESTICATED LEOPARDS.

South African Region Where the Natives Tame the Animals and Make Use of Them.

Upogoro, in German East Africa, says The Sphere, has only recently come into prominence. The whole country is mountainous in character, and several peaks attain an altitude of 4,500 feet.

One of the drawbacks of the country is the presence in large numbers of wild animals, chief among which is the leopard. Although sparing the Europeans, yet he does not fear to burst into the native huts and seize any human being who may be within reach. Should he not succeed in effecting an entrance, he lies in wait until some unfortunate native ventures out.

If there is a goat pen or a chicken roost, he satisfied himself there, but failing this fears not to attack the inhabitants. Once satisfied, he retires to his lair, and, being tracked, often falls a prey to the European rifle.

Young leopards are often caught by the natives, and are bartered for money or articles of clothing. These are sometimes tamed, and though not so trustworthy as the dog, yet throw off their wild nature, and are utilized for practical purposes.

They are used for drawing light carts, and it is by no means uncommon to see them harnessed to the mountain guns, which they pull along with the utmost facility.

MISSED GREAT FORTUNE.

South African Colonist Was Five Minutes Too Late to Become Owner of De Beers Mines.

F. W. Salzman, the oldest South African colonist, missed by about five minutes the acquisition of a fortune of $35,000,000—the great De Beers diamond fields, now one of the richest mines in the world, says Stray Stories.

He was surveying Griqualand when the original owner of the famous farm, W. De Beers, held it. It was then about as barren and hopeless-looking a tract as any in Africa, and De Beers, with endless hard work from morning till night, and very little help, had all he could do to scrape a living out of the place.

There was hardly any water, and grass was scarce and poor; the total profits only amounted to a pound or two per month. When Mr. Salzman had completed his survey De Beers, tired of profitless toil on his patch of sunburnt desert, offered to let him have the farm in exchange for a waistcoat.

Mr. Salzman refused at first, and then said he would think about it. He went to Cape Town later on, where he heard strange rumors of lucky finds in the district he had left.

The next time he trekked that way he went 60 miles out of his road to see De Beers and clinch the bargain offered. He found a stranger's wagon and oxen "outspanned" at the farm when he arrived.

Its owner had come only a few minutes before and had already made an offer for the farm which was accepted.

PLUTOCRACY OF PITTSBURG.

Purse-Proud Younger Generation Forget What Their Fathers Might Have Been.

Pride is a feature of the younger generation of Pittsburghers of wealth. Things of which some of them think they cannot be proud—such as the way in which their hard-working fathers got their start in life—they try to forget. That the fathers are sometimes proud of this same lowly start is responsible for this incident:

"Do you know, young man, that I once was very envious of your father?" said one of the steel kings to the son of a man whose wealth, while great, could be written with one less figure, says a writer in the New York Tribune.

"And when was that?" asked the young man, pleased to think that there had ever been a time when the "king" envied his father.

"It was this way," returned the old man. "I was working in a ditch for $1.50 a day."

"I didn't know you started that way," interrupted the youth.

"That's the way. I was working in this ditch for $1.50 a day, and your father was working in the same ditch. He got $1.75 because he was stronger, and I envied him the extra quarter."

LIGHTNING STRIKES UP.

The Earth Becomes Charged with Negative Current Which Rushes Upward.

The cause of death by lightning is the sudden absorption of the electric current. When a thundercloud, which is highly charged with positive electricity, hangs over any certain place, the earth beneath it becomes abnormally charged with the negative electric current, and a man, animal or other object standing or lying directly beneath also partakes of the last mentioned influence, says a scientific authority. If, while the man, animal or other object is in this condition, a discharge takes place from the cloud above, the restoration of the equilibrium will be sudden and violent, or, in language that we can all understand, the negative current from the earth will rush up to join the positive cloud current, and in passing through the object which separates the two currents, if it be an animate thing, will do so with such force as to almost invariably produce instant death. A person is really "struck" by the ground current, and not by the forked fury from above.

Earnings of College Students.

By a variety of employments, ranging from teaching and technical work to sweeping rooms and washing dishes, 164 Columbia university students earned in three months last year $15,000—an average of about $90 for each man. One student earned more than $100 a week during the three months by advanced tutoring, and another gained $1,050 during the 12 weeks. Several of the students earned $300 each. Of the women students 17 gained $2,434.68, an average of $143, or $50 above the men's average.

Facts from Birth Statistics.

Recently compiled statistics show that the proportion of twins born as compared with other infants is one in eighty births. Of triplets there is only one instance in 6,400, and quadruplets are as one to 512,000; while the chances of a quintet are even more remote, the ratio being one in 40,980,000 births. A case is known of a woman who presented her husband with seven successive triplets.

Voluntary Crop Observers.

The agricultural department has 107,000 voluntary crop observers. Cotton is reported on seven times a year, wheat eight times, corn and oats each six times.

MACHINES SEEM TO THINK.

Marvelous Effectiveness of the Dredges Used in the Great Lakes.

The home of the dipper dredge is on the great lakes. There it flourishes, and in the smaller sizes and in non-tidal fresh water at 20 feet depth was marvelously efficient. A good wooden dredge of ten years ago, which cost, say, $30,000, would do 1,500 or 2,000 cubic yards per ten hours, with a crew of six men, on three tons of coal, says the Engineering Magazine.

It could lift its spuds, move up and reset again in 90 seconds. It stands alone like a table on its legs, with no moorings to obstruct navigation. By means of its dipper on the bottom it can move itself about crab-fashion in any direction, and by the same means can push the barges about which it is loading. It can maneuver itself in any direction, load scoops, dig foundations, pull piles, lay concrete blocks, deposit back-filling, lift boulders, raise wrecks, dredge hard or soft material, and do nearly everything but vote. Its great simplicity made it light in repairs. With tools like these, and suitable for their work, the marvel is not that American contractors do not use the big and costly European ladder dredges, but that these useful American tools do not find a wider recognition in Europe and abroad.

TUNNEL HELPS DIG ITSELF.

Great Bore Under the Alps Discharges Water Enough to Furnish Drill Power.

In the new Simplon tunnel under the Alps, which will be by far the greatest tunnel in the world, having a length of 14 miles, and which, it is now reported, will be completed in July, 1905, the quantity of water flowing out of the southern end, from the many veins encountered in the heart of the mountain, amounts to 15,000 gallons per minute, and furnishes sufficient power to compress the air by which the drills are worked, and to refrigerate the tunnel. The necessity of refrigeration may be judged from the fact that the heat in the deeper parts of the tunnel rises as high as 140 degrees Fahrenheit when not artificially reduced, says the Scientific American. Life would be impossible in the tunnel, where 4,000 workmen labor, if a successful system of refrigeration had not been devised. When a continuous hole through the mountain has been made, then the temperature can more easily be kept down. Two-thirds of the work was completed last July, and the greatest obstacles have now been overcome.

New York World

Thrice-a-Week Edition.

Read Wherever the English Language is Spoken.

The Thrice-a-Week World was a brilliant success in the beginning and has steadily grown ever since. Time is test of all things, and has set its seal of approval on the Thrice-a-Week World, which is widely circulated in every State and Territory of the Union, and wherever there are people who can read our mother tongue.

This paper for the coming winter and the year 1903, will make its news service, if possible, more extensive than ever. All events of importance, no matter where they happen, are reported accurately and promptly.

The subscriber for only one dollar a year, gets three papers every week and more general reading than most great dailies can furnish at five or six times the price.

The Thrice-a-Week World is absolutely fair in its political news. Partisan bias is never allowed to affect its news columns, and Democrat and Republican alike can obtain in its pages truthful accounts of all the great political campaigns.

In addition to all the news, the Thrice-a-Week World furnishes the best serial fiction, elaborate market report and other features of interest.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Bourbon News together one year for $2.75.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

A NOTICE

The women of Central Kentucky have been led to expect much from Kaufman, Straus & Co. in the matter of Tailor-Made Dresses—and rightly.

We have taught our public to look for lavish variety in Fine, Ready-to-Wear Garments. This season, we, ourselves, are astonished at the assemblage presented. Perhaps we have been carried too far by our enthusiasm over the fine things we have found.

In order to introduce these goods speedily and effectively, we have decided to offer them below their actual value at the very beginning of this season, and thus get our patrons to judge for themselves of the superiority of these fine goods.

The Suits and Dresses we are showing represent the very newest and swellest designs; none of them in the house over ten days, yet they will be reduced to the following prices:

$37 50 and 32 50	$35 00 Suits will be Sold at $30 00
27 50 and 22 50	Suits will be Sold at 25 00
22 50 and 18 00	Suits will be Sold at 20 00
18 00 and 16 50	Suits will be Sold at 17 50
16 50 and 15 00	Suits will be Sold at 15 00

The colors are Black, Navy, Royal, Brown and Mixtures. The materials are Cheviots, Claretines, Mistrals and Veilings. Sizes from 32 to 40. Misses' sizes 14 and 16 years; small-ladies can also be fitted from these sizes.

When alterations are necessary, every garment will be made to fit in our own attractive department.

GOOD INVESTMENTS.—No better investments than Paris real estate. See J. W. Lancaster. He has the best investments for you.

FOR EASTER.—Place your order for cut flowers and bulbs with Miss Mary E. Shea. 3-3t CANDIDATE.—S. W. Hager, of Boyd county, candidate for State Auditor, was in the city Saturday, shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Hager has many supporters in Bourbon, who are good workers, and will do him some good at the polls.

I HAVE a beautiful line of samples for cloth suits and silk shirt waist suits. Guarantee a fit. (31ndt) MISS REBECCA DOHRER.

ELECTED MAYOR.—Henry H. Keller, formerly of this city, and son of Dr. David Keller, of Lexington, was last week elected Mayor of South McAlester, Indian Territory, a city of 7,000 inhabitants. Mr. Keller is President of the South McAlester Pressed Brick Company.

FOR TENDER FEET.—Dr. Reed's Cushion Sole Shoes a sure remedy—ask to see them. Thomson sole agent. tf

LET'S ALL GO.—President J. W. McGarvey, of the College of the Bible, has forbidden the students of that department of Kentucky University to attend the performance of the comic opera, "Old King Cole," which will be given in Lexington to-night. We are all "boasting" for "Old King Cole," and are trying to persuade the people to go, rather than trying to keep them away from the performance to be given here on Friday night.

TO YOUR ADVANTAGE.—We are no cutters, but close sellers. Small profits and money down. TRIMBLE'S CASH GROCERY.

THE BEST.—Call for Geo. Wiedemann's Celebrated Book Beer, on tap at all principal saloons. (tf)

FINE SINGING.—The singing at the Second Presbyterian Church on last Sunday was pronounced by those present to be the best ever heard in our city. The music consisted of solos, duets and quartets by the following choir: Organist, Miss Francis Johnson; soprano, Miss Washington; alto, Miss Georgia Flinnan; Mrs. W. A. Johnson; tenor, Judge H. C. Howard; basso, Mr. O. B. Mitchell.

New Cultivated Hemp Seed. CHAS. S. BRENT & BRO.

ON MAY 6TH.—Extensive preparations for the entertainment of the six hundred delegates to the Third District Republican Railroad Convention, which will be held here on May 6th, are being made. The statement that the convention is to be held in the opera house is a mistake, as the old Christian Church building has been rented for that purpose. This will be the first Railroad Convention that Paris has ever entertained, and the citizens are determined to make it a notable event. This convention will be worth a good deal to Paris in a financial way, and we should not look at it from a political standpoint, but as a business proposition.

DROWNED.

Willie Ferguson Falls in a Cistern, and is Drowned.

Willie Ferguson, the 12-year-old son of Edward C. Ferguson, a painter, who resides on Convent Heights, was drowned Sunday in a cistern in the cellar of the Methodist Church.

The lad left home about 9 o'clock Sunday morning with his 6-year-old sister, Pattie, to attend Sunday school. The children arrived at the church and the little girl entered the class-room, but the boy left for Rassenfoss' confectionery, where he purchased 4 cents' worth of caramels, which he received with a penny in change, for the nickel his father had given him. This was the last seen of the lad alive.

It is supposed the boy entered the basement to eat the candy undisturbed, and in some way fell into the cistern and could not get out.

Riley Small, colored, sexton of the church, says he visited the cistern at an early hour, and removing the iron grating (similar to public sewer gratings,) drew some water to freshen the plants and cut flowers in the church auditorium. He says he carefully replaced the grating over the cistern, which has very small opening. The sexton did not visit the cistern till again at 7 p. m., after more water for the flowers, when he noticed the grating pushed aside and saw a boy's cap lying on the ground. He reported the find to Mr. Fletcher Mann, who sounded the water, and found the child's body.

The little fellow was a bright child, and a favorite with his playmates. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the heart-broken parents.

The body was embalmed and removed to the sad home. No services were held at the church Sunday night.

No blame is attached to any one for the accident as the cistern is amply protected.

The funeral will be held at the residence this morning at 9:30 o'clock and the pall-bearers will be Sunday school classmates of the little boy.

Dr. Wm. Kenney, coroner, viewed the body and returned a verdict that the child fell into the cistern while playing and was drowned and that there were no eye-witnesses.

D. M. Dodge's Will Probated.

The will of David M. Dodge was yesterday probated.

The document is quite lengthy and bears date of Nov. 1, 1900, and has a cordial attached Feb. 20, 1903.

The will disposes of 330 acres of fine Bourbon land.

James L. and Victor Dodge are appointed executors of the will.

Shot in The Shoulder.

Harry Holt, son of Ben Holt, while carelessly handling a pistol Sunday at his home shot himself in the shoulder, inflicting a slight flesh wound. Holt was able to be on the street yesterday.

FOR TEN DAYS.—Call at the 8th Street Greenhouse and see my bargain table. In the next ten days any plant on it goes for ten cents for cash.

(2t) MISS EMILY HOLLIDAY.

Large Business.

The postal receipts at the Paris post-office for the year ending March 31, were over $11,000, which is $1,000 more than is required by the postal law to entitle Paris to free city delivery. For the same period the money order department took in over $37,000. This is a fine showing and a big business for this office.

If the business people of Paris want free delivery they can obtain it by a little exertion on their part.

New Pastor Called.

Rev. Carey Morgan, of Richmond, Va., was unanimously called as pastor of the Christian Church in this city, Sunday morning.

Rev. Morgan will accept the position and his duties as pastor will commence on June 1. The church is to be congratulated on securing Rev. Morgan as its pastor, as he has a reputation as a preacher that is surpassed by few.

Prof. Sharon Complimented.

The Kentucky Educational Association, which met in Lexington last June, unanimously adopted a resolution asking the Board of Trustees of the State College to provide a "Summer School" for teachers. Acting in accordance with that resolution the Board ordered Prof. Roark to formulate plans at once. The teachers of Kentucky will, therefore, have a chance to do summer work practically free of cost, so far as instruction is concerned.

President Patterson and Prof. Roark in making up the faculty for this special work gave Supt. J. A. Sharon, of our city schools a very important place. Mr. Sharon will be in touch with teachers from all parts of the State in this work.

Accidentally Shot.

Bruce Adair, the son of A. C. Adair, while cleaning a rudely constructed pistol of his own make, accidentally shot himself in the stomach, Sunday, the bullet ranging to the left and lodging near the hip. The wound is not considered dangerous, and the little fellow was reported as doing very nicely yesterday. As soon as the accident occurred Bruce fearing he would frighten his mother, ran to J. S. Sweetney's residence across street and telephoned for a doctor and returned home and went to bed. Drs. Eads, Kenney, Fithian and Daugherty attended the case and the bullet was extracted which was a 22 caliber.

An Imported Case of Smallpox.

Noah Johnson, colored, was yesterday reported to Dr. Arthur Keller as having the smallpox. Dr. Keller found the negro in question and took him before Health Officer Evans and an examination proved that he had a well-developed case of smallpox.

A pest house was ordered built immediately, which was done, and the negro is now confined in it, the house is located on Houston Creek near Lylesville. Johnson arrived in Paris from from Cincinnati where it is supposed he contracted the disease.

SOCIALDOM.

SOCIAL CALENDAR.

Tuesday afternoon—The Kitties will be seen in band concert at the Grand.

Thursday evening—The Jolly Fellows Cotillon Club will give the second of a series of dances.

Friday evening—Old King Cole at the Grand.

Society has been at a standstill for several weeks on account of Lent, but it is now reveling with the whole world in the beauty and grandeur brought about by the coming of Easter day. On Thursday evening, the Jolly Fellows will give their second Cotillon, which will be its Easter entertainment. Mr. Oakford Hinton will be the leader. The favors will be unusually attractive and the figures new and original.

—Miss Annie May and Messrs. Charles May and Henry May are entertaining the following guests at Maywood, their handsome home near Shawhan: Misses Carrie Hunt, Mary L. Hunt, Messrs. George Hunt and Henry Lloyd, of Lexington; Misses Eva and Lady Nuckles and Mr. Louis Nuckles, of Versailles.

—The Mask and Wig Club of Kentucky University, of Lexington, will give a performance of Old King Cole at the Grand, Friday evening.

Miss Kate Ingels will have as her guests for the evening the Basket Ball team of the University. Miss Ingels will give a dinner and afterwards a box party to see the opera.

WOOL.—Highest market price. New sacks and plenty of them. Come to see us. (1t) C. S. BRENT & BRO.

WITHDRAWN.—Mr. W. B. O'Connell of Mt. Sterling, has withdrawn from the race for Clerk of the Court of Appeals on the Democratic ticket.

GOOD EXCUSE.—Judge Cantill excused a Woodford county man from serving on the Howard jury because his wife had just had twins. He said that was a good excuse and the crowd agreed with him when the man added that he had named them Goebel and Beckham.

LEAD IN BOURBON.—Mr. Connor, of Covington, is working in Bourbon in the interest of lead development. He says he is sure there is a valuable vein on John Caldwell's farm, and also reports that capitalists are negotiating for lead, oil and gas leases on farms in this county.

ECLIPSE.—There was an eclipse of the moon Saturday night. It began shortly after six o'clock and lasted for one hour and forty minutes. The eclipse was visible from the greater part of the Western Hemisphere and was caused by the sun passing between the earth and the moon.

BASE BALL.—The base ball season of the National League for 1903 opens tomorrow at Cincinnati with Pittsburg and Cincinnati clubs playing their first game.

A Good Selection.

Mr. Newton Mitchell was Saturday selected by the Bourbon Home Telephone Co. to be its manager in this city. The position was offered to Mr. Mitchell and it was accepted. His duties as manager commenced yesterday. The company could have made no better selection had it looked the town over as Mr. Mitchell is a very competent man and will make a popular and efficient manager. Mr. Mitchell will continue to be Superintendent of the Water Works as the two positions will not conflict.

SOMETHING PRETTY.—See the Oriental wall paper at Hinton's.

FOR SALE.—Ten shares of Agricultural Bank stock. A. T. FORSYTHE.

FLOWERS.—Order your Easter flowers from Miss Mary E. Shea, at Mrs. W. A. Johnson's. 3-3t

Administrator's Notice.

All persons having claims against the estate of Junius B. Clay will please prove them as required by law, and leave same with me, or at my office on the corner of Broadway and High, in the City of Paris, Kentucky. Those knowing themselves indebted to the estate will please settle as promptly as possible.

HARMON STITT, Administrator of the Estate of Junius B. Clay.

Shoe Styles for Spring.

Shiny Leathers, such as Patent Kid, Patent Colt, &c., are still very popular, and are much more reliable than formerly.

Higher heels are fashionable this season. The high leather "Cuban" heels and wood "French" heels are seen on a great many of the fine shoes for ladies' wear.

A very pretty Lace Shoe, for women, seen at Clay's Shoe Store is made of Patent Colt, with a medium, round toe, 1 1/2-inch "Cuban" heel and dull "Mat Kid" top. It is a beauty, and sells at $3.00.

A beautiful Oxford, for women, also seen at Clay's Shoe Store, is made of Patent Kid front part, dull "Mat Kid" quarter; 1 1/4-inch square metallic heel and welt extension soles. They have extra large eyelets, using a large ribbon lace, and it makes an extremely pretty street shoe. They sell for $3.00 a pair.

What MITCHELL Says

The Home-Made Candy season has closed. I won't make any more until next Fall. I wish to thank the people for a very generous patronage on my Candy and hope we may all eat it again next season.

I have just gotten a fresh lot of the fine "Venetian" Chocolates, and if you have bought any of it, you know how fine it is.

This is the finest line of Chocolates I have ever seen.

I have opened my Soda Fountain, and am trying to put out better goods than I have ever done before.

When you want the real thing in Ice Cream Soda, you know where I am.

Yours Truly, O. B. MITCHELL.

THE KIDNAPPED MILLIONAIRES

A TALE OF WALL STREET AND THE TROPICS

CHAPTER XXIV—CONTINUED

Mr. Carmody laughed heartily. "So we have been on the mainland all the time, have we?" he said. "Well, that is pretty good. But we might as well have been on an island. A rabbit could not get to 'Morton's Bay,' unless he knew how to swim. Well, we had a good time if we were kidnapped. Here comes Mr. Kent, Mr. Vincent, and Mr. Pence. Sidney seems bound to stick to 'The Jumping Jupiter' until the last minute. I suppose they are taking the gold off." Mr. Carmody explained the discovery of the gold idols in the old ruined temple.

Mr. Carmody formally introduced L. Sylvester Vincent to Bernard Seymour. They shook hands.

"Glad to see you on board the yacht," said Mr. Seymour. "I did not catch the name exactly."

"Vincent—L. Sylvester Vincent, of Chicago," Mr. Vincent replied.

"Oh yes, you are the man I arrested in St. Louis last week."

Seymour then explained to the astounded Vincent the mistake that had been made, and all joined in the laugh which followed.

Mr. Carmody informed Capt. Baldwin that there was a quantity of valuable stores on board "The Jumping Jupiter." The naphtha launch was lowered and several sailors detrained to New York. Mr. Carmody insisted that he have all the time necessary to prepare and forward his story. At 12:40 Chalmers filed his first news bulletin, and from that moment until ten o'clock at night a corps of telegraph operators was busy clicking the greatest "beat" ever recorded in the history of modern journalism.

It may be mentioned in passing that the receipt in New York of private telegrams from the missing millionaires was followed on the exchange by enormous buying of stocks. There were no rumors to account for the consequent rise in prices and for some time the market stoutly resisted the advance. Then quotations began to rise; slowly at first, but with increasing momentum. Something had happened! What was it?

The news of the Wall street boom came over the telephone to the newspaper office. Mr. Sharp, the acting editor of the Evening Record, was on the alert. In a fever of excitement he awaited the expected word from Mr. Chalmers or one of his assistants. The rival paper, the Evening Gazette, was out with an extra containing a rumor that the lost magnates had been located in South Africa. Mr. Sharp could stand it no longer. It was two o'clock and the market was soaring, but Wall street was as mystified as ever. For a week Sharp had held in type the most startling headlines ever designed in the office. He had been advised that the "Helen Carmody" had sailed from Havana and he knew her destination. It was the day for news from the abducted men. Sharp decided to "take a chance." The following was his first effort in headlines, which covered the front page, and crowded the title of the paper into small type in the upper left-hand corner:

THE EVENING RECORD.

New York, May 21.

RESCUED BY THE RECORD!!!

The New York Record Accomplishes the Greatest Achievement in the History of Journalism!!!

RESCUES THE MISSING MILLIONAIRES!!!

Palmer J. Morton, John M. Rockwell, Andrus Carmody, R. J. Kent, Simon Pence and Hiram Haven

Rescued from the Mexican Coast by an Expedition Fitted out by the New York Record!!!

Wall Street in a Flurry of Excitement!

The brief article which followed contained no information not stated in the headlines, and there was no date line at the head of it. Mr. Sharp was busy preparing a second and more circumstantial announcement when a telegram was received from Mr. Chalmers. A few minutes later the second Record extra was on the street. It read:

"Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 16.—The expedition in charge of William Chalmers, managing editor of the New York Record, has effected the rescue of Palmer J. Morton, John M. Rockwell, Andrus Carmody, R. J. Kent, Simon Pence, Hiram Haven, Sidney Hammond and L. Sylvester Vincent. The kidnapping of these distinguished financiers is the most sensational crime in history. On the evening of May 1, seven of these men were lured on board the steam yacht 'Shark,' owned by Walter B. Hestor, the famous amateur newspaper correspondent. Hestor planned the crime and executed it with the cunning of a maniac. He invited Messrs. Morton, Kent, Rockwell, Carmody, Haven and Pence to join him at a dinner on board the 'Shark,' at which time an important business matter was to be discussed. Mr. Sidney Hammond was invited as legal counsel for Mr. Hestor. L. Syl-straight ahead? What do you say, Mr. Carmody?"

"She is a bit faster than this boat, I think," said Mr. Carmody. "In my judgment, she will pass at least half a mile ahead of us."

"I do not think so," said Miss Helen. "I am loyal to our yacht. We will beat her. Don't you think so, Mr. Chalmers?"

"I think one of us will have to change our course," replied Chalmers. At this moment Capt. Baldwin approached and called Chalmers aside.

"That boat to windward is the 'Shark,'" he said in a low tone. Chalmers took a quick look at the steadily approaching craft. "She is going to cut us off," continued Capt. Baldwin. "You had better pass the word among the men folks, and send the ladies below. I don't know what the intentions of that fellow Hestor are, but he is not going to interfere with the 'Helen Carmody' without a fight."

Chalmers returned to Mr. Carmody and Miss Helen.

"That yacht is the 'Shark,'" he said, quietly. "Capt. Baldwin has recognized her. He does not anticipate any trouble, but he suggests that Miss Carmody and Mrs. White go below for awhile."

"I do not wish to go below," said Miss Carmody, her eyes dancing with excitement. "I am not afraid. They cannot hurt us, can they, papa? Let me stay on deck. I want to see that awful Mr. Hestor and his captain."

"That will not do, Helen," said Mr. Carmody. "Capt. Baldwin is right. You join Mrs. White and remain in the saloon until I call you."

Miss Helen glanced appealingly at Mr. Chalmers, but received no encouragement in her meditated rebellion; so she obeyed and went to the lower deck.

Sidney Hammond came rushing forward.

"That is the 'Shark!'" he exclaimed. "Let us prepare for trouble. That maniac means mischief. Where are the rifles?"

Mr. Kent, Mr. Morton and Mr. Pence were enjoying an afternoon nap, but they were quickly aroused and informed of the situation. Simon Pence was in an agony of terror. His knees sank beneath him and he was too agitated to speak. Not so with Mr. Kent. His fighting blood was up in a minute.

"I will shoot that crazy dude full of holes if he or his men attempt to lay hands on me!" he exclaimed. He reached into his stateroom and produced a repeating rifle which he examined carefully and calmly.

There were 20 rifles aboard the yacht. In anticipation of possible trouble Capt. Baldwin had purchased a dozen guns at Vera Cruz. These were distributed among the men and the crew. Sidney Hammond was put in charge of the defense—if one should be necessary. The weapons were placed within easy reach and they waited the approach of the "Shark," which was less than a mile away.

The faces of the men were a study. Hardly a word was spoken. Their faces were flushed with anger, rather than pale with fear. In plain sight was the yacht which had held them captive for days. They viewed the "Shark" as a pirate. Not a man doubted that Hestor was on board, and that he meant mischief. How trim and sleek the "Shark" looked as her prow cut the waves of the gulf! Her brass work glistened like gold in the afternoon sun. On her forward deck was a glint of polished steel. Mr. Kent recognized it.

"There is that rapid-fire gun," he said in an undertone.

Mr. Morton bowed, but said nothing. Bernard Seymour examined his gun methodically. He ran his eye along the sights and studied the adjustment for distance. He spoke quietly to Sidney Hammond, received a nod of approval and went forward, taking a position near the bow of the boat.

Capt. Baldwin whistled a signal that he would go to starboard. There was no answer from the "Shark." Again the "Helen Carmody" blew a warning blast. In answer the "Shark" ran up a flag signal asking the "Helen Carmody" to "lay to."

Capt. Baldwin hesitated a moment. He then gave the word to the engineer to go ahead full speed. They had been running half speed, so as to avoid any chance of a collision. Capt. Baldwin gave a blast to indicate that he would pass the "Shark" to leeward. The "Shark" slightly changed its course, and went slowly ahead parallel to its rival, but gradually drawing nearer.

As they came abreast the "Shark" was not 150 yards away. Those on the "Helen Carmody" could see Capt. Waters on the bridge. The crew was grouped on the forward deck.

A tall, slender figure in yachting uniform suddenly appeared by the side of Capt. Waters. Sidney instantly recognized Walter B. Hestor, who raised a megaphone. His voice sounded sharp and clear.

"Stand by; I wish to come aboard!" he shouted.

"Is the 'Shark' in distress?" was the reply of Capt. Baldwin.

"She is not!" shouted Hestor.

The two yachts were so close it was possible to converse without a megaphone.

"Stand off!" shouted Capt. Baldwin. "Stand off! You cannot come aboard. This is a private yacht, bound for New Orleans. Stand off, or I will run you down!"

"Hello, there, Mr. Rockwell!" shouted Hestor, lifting his cap and bowing profoundly. "Did you have a good time? How are you, Mr. Morton? You are so tanned I scarcely recognized you. How do you do, Mr. Kent? Hestoria seems to have agreed with you! Hello, Sidney! Kindly tell your friends, Sidney, that

MR. KENT WAS THE FIRST TO REACH HIS SIDE.

I must have the pleasure of their company aboard the 'Shark' at once! They are disarranging my plans. Check your yacht and I will send a launch over after you. There is my old college chum, L. Sylvester Vincent! How are you, old chap! You look like the real thing! No nonsense about this, Sidney! Stop your boat, or I will stop her for you!"

"You keep off our course!" shouted Sidney. "These gentlemen do not care to see you. Go your way and do not molest us. You will do so at your peril. Capt. Waters, that man is insane. You should put him in irons and take him to New Orleans. Are you the captain of a pirate ship? This is Mr. Carmody's yacht, with ladies aboard. We demand that we be allowed to proceed, and request you to do your duty and turn that man over to the authorities. He is a criminal or a lunatic."

"I am, am I?" shouted Hestor. He dashed the megaphone to the bridge and leaped to the lower deck. Like a flash he jumped to the rapid-fire gun. Capt. Waters yelled an order. It was not finished when there came a spit of fire from the muzzle of the gun. Three of the crew dashed at Hestor.

The same instant there was the crack of a rifle from the bow of the "Helen Carmody."

A dozen bullets tore through the glass and mahogany sides of the forward deck house. Sidney Hammond fell to the deck. The "Shark" swung sharply to the starboard, and in a few seconds was speeding away to the east. It all happened so quickly that with one exception the men on the "Helen Carmody" were too dazed to make a move. The wheelsman sent the yacht hard to port.

Mr. Kent was the first to reach the side of Sidney Hammond. There was a stain of red on his shoulder, and they tore and cut away the coat and shirt. As they did so, Sidney opened his eyes. He stared for a moment and jumped to his feet.

"It is nothing!" he said, as he took a long breath. "It is merely a flesh wound. The shock dazed me for a moment. I am all right."

In the meantime the "Shark" continued on its eastern course, and the "Helen Carmody" neared the mouth of the Mississippi. It was seven o'clock in the evening when they took a pilot. Sidney was moved to the forward deck, and all gathered around him to discuss what had happened.

"That was about as rapid a bit of work as ever I witnessed," said Mr. Kent, who had been slightly cut in the hand by a flying piece of glass.

"Who fired the shot from our boat?" asked Sidney, with a slight grimace of pain as his shoulder twinged where the shot had lacerated a muscle. "It was the last thing I heard."

"I fired it," said Bernard Seymour. "And I got your man Hestor all right. Did you see him drop?"

"I did," said Mr. Morton. "His hands went up and he fell into the arms of two of his crew who were rushing forward to grab him."

"Did any one hear the order given by Capt. Waters?" asked Mr. Carmody.

"I heard every word he said," replied Miss Helen.

"You did!" exclaimed her father, a frown darkening his face. "I asked you to go below, Helen, and supposed you would obey me."

Keeps One Cool, Encourages Industry, Abstemiousness and Steadiness.

"The passions' effect on the health is not sufficiently regarded," says a physician in the Philadelphia Record. "The passion which is best for the health is avarice. It keeps one cool, encourages regular and industrious habits, leads to abstemiousness and makes against all excess. And hence the avaricious, the misers, live to a great age. The misers of history were all noted for their longevity. Rage is very bad for one. The passion causes an irregular, intermittent beating of the heart, and the intermittency in time may become chronic. Hatred creates fever. If we hate we grow lean. This hot passion eats us like a flame. Fear is bad for the nerves, the heart and the brain, and, therefore, we should never permit ourselves to be afraid. But the strangest effects of all have been caused by the passion of grief. The medical books record cases where, coming suddenly, in a violent shock, it has caused a loss of blood from the lungs in one person—paralysis of the tongue in another, and a failure of sight, or temporary blindness in a third."

STEPHON 20404

Is a dappled gray horse, foaled October 20, 1892; bred by Jacob P. Sleight, Lansing, Mich.; stands 16½ hands high and weighs 1,700 pounds. This is the only purely bred and registered Percheron stallion ever offered to the public in Kentucky. He came from the Oaklawn Farms, owned by M. W. Dunham, of Wayne, Ill., the largest breeders of Percheron and French Coach horses in the world, and the owner of more prize winners than any other breeder in France or America.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.
We are authorized to announce T. T. HEDGER as a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, subject to the will of the Democratic Party. Primary May 9th, 1903.

Beckham Opens Campaign.
Gov. Beckham opened his campaign yesterday at Owensboro with a hot speech, he goes after Col. J. H. Hendricks in a caustic and sensational fashion. He declares there is no question of his eligibility and scouts charges of machine domination.

THAT new Chicago woman's paper is to have a column called "Man, Lovely." We knew it all the time, but dislike very much to have it thrown up to us.

THE Brooklyn Judge was right when he sentenced a woman to jail for swearing. This thing of women infringing on men's prerogatives ought to be stopped.

BUFFALO has organized an anti-goog society; it is beginning to look as though the Burdick scandal will turn out to be a good thing for New York society after all.

A PENNSYLVANIA widow has just cut her third set of teeth, which but again emphasizes the fact that it is simply impossible to cancel the widow or make her "go away back."

It is announced that the Western Union Telegraph Company's new manager was once a messenger boy, but it is hard to believe that any messenger boy ever got that sort of move on himself.

The proposed trip of Gov. Beckham, his staff and several hundred members of the State Guard to the dedicatory ceremonies of the World's Fair at St. Louis, April 30, has been abandoned. The lack of funds to pay the expenses of the soldiers and the rivalry between the various companies for the honor of making the trip are the causes assigned for the Governor's action.

WALL PAPER.—See Hinton's big stock of wall paper. Car loads to select from.

A GOOD MOTTO.—Davis & Farris are doing four times more business now than they did the first month they opened. The reason is fair dealing and good groceries.

FLEMING FOR BECKHAM.—Editor Doley, of the Flemingsburg Times-Democrat, says that Governor Beckham will get more votes than both the other candidates. The people are for him, and when the votes are counted, he will have them.

To SELECT ELECTION OFFICERS.—A meeting of the Democratic County Committee will be held at the court house Saturday for the selection of election officers for the primary on May 9. Those who will serve free of charge should hand their names in to the committee.

This Should Be Investigated.
(Communicated.)
EDITOR NEWS: Saloons run in a local option precinct are in violation of the law. There is now being run in Clayville, a negro suburb of this city, a joint by two negroes, on as big a scale as any saloon run in our city. That pays a license of $150 to the county for the privilege. At the last session of the Grand Jury this place was indicted, and a fine of $50 was imposed, which was a saving of $100 had they paid license. At the same term of court a negro was fined $50 and given ten days in jail for delivering a quart of whiskey in Clintonville which is in the same precinct as Clayville.

This joint in Clayville is run in the building that has a very bad reputation among the law abiding citizens of this city. It was formerly run by Green Jackson who served a term in the penitentiary for stealing a barrel of whiskey from a car on the L. & N. railroad. It was then opened and run by Gus Thomas, who skipped out after some stolen hogs were found in his possession. Thomas ran a notorious joint, but it was no worse, if as bad, as the one the present occupants of the building are running. Crowds of negroes congregate there every night and make the night hideous with their wild carousals. Especially is this true of Saturday night, when the revels are kept up through the entire night and well into Sunday morning. As a consequence it is a common sight for church goers on Sunday morning to see half a dozen or so drunken negroes on the street, and the saloon-keeper who pays a license of $425 a year, and conducts an orderly and lawful place, get the benefit of it.

The county officials should break up this joint and while they are at it, they might investigate one run in the negro settlement of Rockerville.

CUPID'S ARROW.

—The following invitations have been issued:
Mr. and Mrs. John Duvall Yarrington request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their cousin Rosa Lee Hall, to
Mr. John Throckmorton Clark, on the afternoon of Wednesday, April twenty-second, at five o'clock Lakeview, Lexington, Kentucky.

—At the home of the bride's father, in Frankfort, on Thursday, Mr. Ernest H. Crutcher and Miss Anna Bush Landers, were married by Rev. George Darsie, of Christian church.

—On Wednesday, April 8, Mr. Cassius Smith and Miss Alice B. Crutcher were married at the residence of the bride's parents, near Duck Station, Rev. H. B. Smith officiating.

"The Kilties" This Afternoon.
The performance of "The Kilties" at the Opera House this afternoon will begin sharp at 2 o'clock, and it is earnestly requested that every one will be in their seats by that time and not mar the enjoyment of the performance by coming in late. From the present indications there will be a large audience, as delegations are coming from all the surrounding towns and villages.

YOUR CHANCE.—A money lender jumps at a chance to loan money at 6 per cent., yet you can save from 10 per cent. to 25 per cent. by buying at TRIMBLE'S CASH GROCERY.

DEATHS.

—Captain John Punch, of Mt. Sterling, died Saturday of consumption. Captain Punch served as guard at the penitentiary for one year previous to his appointment as Deputy Warden. He was the son of the late U. S. Marshall Pat Punch. Mrs. Punch is also at the point of death with the same disease. The remains will be brought to Paris for burial to-day.

—Mr. David M. Dodge, aged 71, a well known and prominent farmer of Bourbon county, died at his home on Friday of heart trouble. He was in his buggy on his farm when the fatal stroke came.

Mr. Dodge was the father of Victor K. Dodge, of the Lexington Lumber Company; James Dodge, of Paris, and Mrs. Charles Blakeley, of Topeka, Kan., and Mrs. W. H. Wood, of Mt. Sterling. He was a half brother of Mrs. George Lancaster, of Lexington, and Kinzea Stone, of Georgetown. He owned a fine farm of 350 acres, and had raised many valuable horses.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Second Presbyterian Church, conducted by Rve. Dr. E. H. Rutherford.

HOW TO SHIP LAMBS.

It Pays Well to Prepare the Carcasses with Neatness, Each Placed on a Stretcher.

Winter lambs for market should weigh not less than 45 pounds alive, and be fat. This condition is determined somewhat accurately by feeling the brisket and the tail near the body. A high degree of fatness is more important than weight, as they sell by the carcass, rather than by weight. The weight of two lambs being the same, the younger one will sell higher. The evidences of age are the fleece and the degree of ossification in the bones. Most lambs are marketed between the ages of ten and 16 weeks, a few as young as eight weeks. The market for them extends from Christmas to Easter, according to the Ohio Farmer correspondent, who further says:

To prepare a dressed lamb for shipment send about each lamb a square yard of clean, new muslin, as shown in the cut. We have shipped in various ways, and by both express and refrigerator freight. We now place each lamb on a stretcher, as shown in the second figure, and then wrap in burlap, which we get of the furniture dealers. We tried shipping in crates, but the crates would get crushed.

The diagram is a slight modification in form from the stretcher shown with a lamb on it. The side pieces should be about two inches wide and a half-inch thick, and made of light, strong timber, such as poplar, basswood or elm. The ten-inch cross-piece should be one and a half inch square; A is a ten-penny nail driven through this piece diagonally, pointing toward the short projecting ends of the side pieces. This is to hold the lamb's neck in position, as it is forced down upon it. Press the front legs down upon the neck and hold there with a twine around the stretcher. Loop short pieces of twine about the hind legs above the hocks and draw tightly, fastening at B. The legs should be cut off below the knee and hock.

Effective Bath for Swine.

A breeder thus tells how he prepared a bath for swine: "Some years ago we tried an experiment by making a shallow bath, four feet wide and ten feet long, of planks, with sides eight inches high. This, being bedded in puddled clay, was easily made watertight. The whole thing did not cost more than three hours' labor. Water was pumped from a stock well near by and run into this bath by a spout. Gravel was placed some inches deep around the bath to prevent mud. The water was drawn off and the bath refilled every day. The pigs did not require any teaching. We have seen seven pigs in it at once, and the others trying to root them out so they could get possession."

Dry Quarters for Horses.

In the days of muddy yards it takes a surprisingly short time for even a few horses or cattle to tramp a moderate sized lot into a genuine quagmire, and it is a positive shame to ask horses (or cattle, either, for that matter) to lie down and rest in such disgraceful quarters. At that, however, it does not much matter how much asking is done, the horses will not lie down. Instead, they will hang around the driest spots in the yard, where the mud is least deep and chew and gnaw all night. They keep awake, and must have something to do, so they get into one of the worst and most annoying habits that ever cursed a horse, young or old.—Midland Farmer.

Papering Hen House Walls.

It will cost but little to paper the outer walls of a poultry house with waterproof paper. It is better to place the paper on the outside, as it then protects the boards from becoming wet. One plan, however, is to strip the boards on the outside and paper the house on the inside. This can be done with any ordinary paper—wrapping paper being excellent—two thicknesses being applied, and it can be removed in summer, as it will then afford a harboring place for lice. The better plan is to use waterproof paper, which if painted will last for years.

Expert Picking of Poultry.

Some of the expert pickers of poultry can take the feathers off the fowls so quickly as to astonish one who does not understand the operation. It is done by dipping each carcass in cold water and allowing it to drip. Finely pulverized resin is then dusted over and among the feathers, which causes the feathers to stick to the hands, even the pin feathers coming out with but little difficulty. Use the common crude resin, about one-half teaspoonful for each fowl.—Farm and Fireside.

POSTURES OF THE FEET

Well-Bred Girls of To-Day Seem to Lack Training in This Important Particular.

"Why in the name of the graces are the girls of to-day not better trained in regard to the disposition of their feet?" said a masculine critic recently, reports the New York Tribune. "Especially," he continued, "as it seems quite permissible now,adays to show foot and ankle with perfect freedom. In olden days young women were taught to sit with their pretty feet daintily crossed before them—a position which can never be awkward—but now the postures assumed by our society maidens are ungainly in the extreme. 'Well bred, charming girls to the knees,' I heard some one comment last summer, at a function where short skirts were worn; but below the knees—rough peasants. Did you ever see such positions? And I looked and marvelled. Feet widely separately and planted flatly and heavily on the floor was one favorite position, another was tucking each foot around the legs of the chair. Several girls I saw sitting with feet turned in—what is called pigeon-toed fashion—and feet apart, also giving the widespread awkward look to the knees. Taking them one and all, everyone's posture was liable to criticism, and I cannot understand why such conspicuous faults should go uncorrected and uncorrected."

SILK HATS IN JAPAN.

Some Queer Specimens Are Worn by Men Who Affect European Fashions.

The Japan Weekly Advertiser has a few words to say about the aping of western customs by the Japanese, and takes for its text the foreign clothes seen on citizens of the flowery empire. It says:

"Men of fair status are frequently to be seen wearing silk hats of antediluvian pattern, with ordinary native costume down to geta and zori. 'As for the hats, where the blocks come from is a mystery, but the fact remains that a Bowery or White-chapel tough would be ashamed to go abroad in some of the abortions masquerading as 'bowlders' and 'toppers,' which are as common as perambulations in Japan."

"Here is a case where the natives cannot excuse themselves on the ground that they have no model to go by. A glance at the first foreigner should be sufficient to teach them that a hard hat worn over the ears, and measuring scarcely more than two inches in height from the brim to the crown, is not a fashionable adjunct of European costume in the twentieth century, though it might have been so 30 years ago."

The wearing of a silk hat with a kimono is, says the Advertiser, "the outward and visible sign of a certain intellectual inaptitude."

AMERICAN SHOE INDUSTRY.

The Output of Footwear in This Country Is Something Enormous.

The books, shoes and slippers made by machinery in the United States every year would provide a pair of some kind for more than one-seventh of the inhabitants of the earth. If they were arranged by pairs, heels and toes touching, they would make a belt that would encircle the globe, with enough to spare to stretch across the North American continent from New York to San Francisco. Placed singly, heel and toe, they would go around the world two and a half times. If placed on the tracks of our great trunk railroads, the rights on one rail and the lefts on the other, they would cover the irons from the Atlantic to the Pacific of all the continental lines that now cross our country, says a shoe journal.

The hides and skins used to form this immense quantity of shoes come from all over the world, but chiefly from the East Indies, South America and Europe, and if they were sewed together in one sheet they would make a tent large enough to cover Manhattan island.

TALL MEN ARE FREAKS.

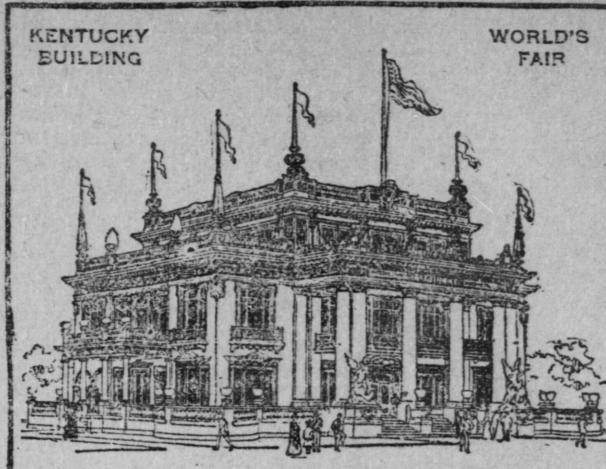

Learned Authority Upon Giants Says They Have Small Brain Cavities.

Prof. Cunningham, who has been appointed to succeed and serve under his old teacher, Sir William Turner, in the chair of anatomy in the University of Edinburgh, is the greatest authority upon giants, says a London paper. He is at present occupied in elaborating the proofs of his belief that a giant is a morbid phenomenon. A man or woman who is more than six feet five inches, or, at the outside, six feet six inches, cannot be regarded as merely abnormal, the professor thinks. He has shown that the mental characteristics of giants—easy good nature, sloth and poor intelligence—are those shown by victims of a rare disease of overgrowth called acromegaly. This is due to enlargement of an appendage of the brain, and Prof. Cunningham has personally examined every giant skeleton in the British and continental museums, and found that the little cavity in the skull corresponding to this part of the brain is enlarged in all of them.

First Ox-Tail Soup.

Ox-tail soup, now regarded as a national English dish, was first made by the very poor of Huguenot refugees from France, after the revocation of the edict of Nantes, because ox tails then had no market value.

FREE TRIPS TO ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR. ALL EXPENSES OF THE 120 MOST POPULAR SCHOOL TEACHERS IN THE STATE PAID.

School children and public generally invited to determine the most popular teacher in every county. Votes ten cents each, ten cast at one time. All money over and above trip expenses of teachers to go into erection of the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Every voter thus given the satisfaction of knowing a worthy cause and important object have been aided, at the same time a favorite teacher has received recognition. Contest conducted under auspices of Educational Exhibit Committee of Kentucky Exhibit Association, the organization formed to raise $100,000 for a Kentucky Building at the Fair, the Legislature having failed to make an appropriation. Every educator in the State, whether teacher in public or private school, or member of faculty of academy, college or university, medical, dental or theological institution, protestant or catholic denominational school, is eligible to election. Members of the Educational Exhibit Committee alone excepted.

Names of all school children voting to be enrolled in the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Kentucky will have an educational exhibit occupying 2,500 square feet of space in the Palace of Education. The Exposition is to be the greatest international fair in the world's history. The 120 teachers chosen will be lucky indeed in being tendered this trip to the Fair. Every county elects its own most popular educator. The county outside of Jefferson casting the largest number of votes will be allowed to send two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular.

THE VOTES WILL BE TEN CENTS EACH, TEN CONSTITUTING A BALLOT.

At ten cents each, every school child in the State will be able to cast at least one vote for his or her favorite teacher. But the voting will not be confined to school children.

PARENTS OF PUPILS OR ANY OF THEIR FRIENDS MAY VOTE. The purpose of the Association being to elect the most popular school teacher in each county, as so considered by the public generally, as well as by the school children. Ballots contain ten spaces, so clubs of ten pupils may be arranged and each giving ten cents be credited with his or her vote. If one person desires to cast ten votes, it may be done by writing his or her name on one of the spaces and remitting one dollar. It is not required that the name of the person voting be given at all. All of the spaces for voters' names may be left blank. The Association wants, however, to enroll in the Kentucky Building at St. Louis next year the name of every child who can vote or more votes in the contest. Pupils are asked therefore to sign their names plainly to the ballots.

ALL EXPENSES OF THE TEACHERS WILL BE PAID by the Association. This will include railroad transportation from Louisville to St. Louis and return, board at one of the best hotels in the city for six days and admission to the exposition grounds for six days.

THREE PARTIES WILL BE MADE UP FROM THE MOST POPULAR TEACHERS to make the trip more profitable and more enjoyable. Each of these parties will consist of forty (40) teachers. This would make a total of 120 teachers, but as there are only 119 counties in Kentucky, the Association has decided to allow two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular—to go from that county—Jefferson excepted—which casts the greatest number of votes in the contest. ALL TEACHERS IN THE STATE STAND ON AN EQUAL FOOTING in this contest. The teacher with only twenty pupils may receive more votes than the teacher with five or six times as many enrolled in his or her school, because the voting is not confined to children. The public will be an important factor.

Votes may be cast for any person who taught school during 1902 or is teaching now. This gives the teacher of a five months' school, which closed in November or December, the opportunity to be voted for during the vacation period.

ANY NUMBER OF BALLOTS MAY BE CAST AT ONE TIME. There is no limit. The more dollars sent in for any one teacher the more votes he or she will be credited with.

ONE DOLLAR CASTS TEN VOTES; TWO DOLLARS CASTS TWENTY VOTES; THREE DOLLARS CASTS THIRTY VOTES; FOUR DOLLARS CASTS FORTY VOTES; FIVE DOLLARS CASTS FIFTY VOTES; TEN DOLLARS CASTS A HUNDRED VOTES; ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS CASTS ONE THOUSAND VOTES.

All of the money received in this contest, over and above that used in defraying expenses of the 120 most popular teachers of the State on their trips to the World's Fair, will go for the erection of a Kentucky Building at the exposition, one vote every voter in this contest may have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has added a worthy cause.

THE STANDING OF THE CONTENTANTS WILL BE PRINTED FREQUENTLY in each county to show his or her friends how the race is being run. Begin voting now for your favorite school teacher. The votes will be counted under the supervision of the Educational Exhibit Committee of the Association. The personnel of this committee is as follows: Prof. L. C. Browne, Louisville, Chairman; Prof. H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Prof. R. F. Haddock, Louisville; Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville; Prof. P. Paul Anderson, Lexington; Dr. Chase Palmer, Danville; President William Dinwiddie, Jackson; Dr. W. G. Frost, Berea; Dr. B. B. Hinton, Louisville; Dr. E. V. Mullins, Louisville; Dr. Arthur Yager, Georgetown; Superintendent M. A. Cassidy, Lexington; Superintendent S. L. Froese, Frankfort; Prof. C. I. Crabbe, Ashland; Prof. McHenry Rhoads, Owensboro; Prof. T. S. Aiken, Bellevue; Prof. C. C. Cherry, Bowling Green; Prof. Enoch Spencer, Louisville; Miss Pattie S. Hill, Louisville; Mrs. Emily E. Bracken, Louisville, and Mrs. M. B. Tucker, Louisville. Members of the Educational Committee are not eligible to election in this contest.

REMEMBER EVERY COUNTY ELECTS ITS OWN FAVORITE TEACHER. Competition between counties only applies to the race for the 120th trip, the county outside of Jefferson, casting the largest total number of votes being granted the distinction of sending two teachers.

The result will be announced in every paper in the state, and, in addition to this, a congratulatory message will go to the teacher elected in each county. Later the details of the trip will be arranged, each teacher chosen being given the privilege of selecting the month—June, July or August, 1904—in which he or she wants to make the trip.
